HOW THE HARRIS COUNTY DISTRICT CLERK'S OFFICE SERVES YOU ...

ABOUT US

The Harris County District Clerk's Office is most well known for summoning prospective jurors for 90+ courts. Prospective jurors are drawn from a jury wheel consisting of names of registered voters and/or holders of a Texas driver's license or identification card.

The District Clerk's Office also has other far-ranging duties, playing a key role in the day-to-day operation of county government. The District Clerk's Office is responsible for custodial care and safekeeping of all court records for 90+ Courts.

In conjunction with court duties, the office also accounts for all monies paid as deposits on civil cases (causes) awaiting disposition, and all funds awarded minors in court action that are paid into the court registry.
