HARRIS COUNTY DISTRICT CLERK

Due to Hurricane Laura, Operations at the Harris County District Clerk's Office could be limited for the rest of the week.

Houston (TX) August 25, 2020 – Due to Hurricane Laura, operations at the Harris County District Clerk's Office could be limited for the rest of the week. Our offices will be closed tomorrow, Wednesday August 26, and Thursday August 27.

Following a directive from the County Engineer, the Criminal Justice Center will be closed at noon on Wednesday, August 26. All personnel need to be out of the building by that time. Initially, the Criminal Justice Center will remain closed through Thursday, August 27, and reopen on Friday, August 28.

All court settings scheduled for Thursday have been cancelled. New jail cases will be rolled to Friday and all Thursday bond cases will be reset to a future date.

Probable Cause Court operations will be relocating back to the Joint Processing Center Wednesday morning after the 7:00 a.m. docket.

As more information becomes available, we will publish it on our website and on our social media channels.
